The following information is based on JHU’s expectation that all schools will make significant use of online and remote teaching and learning for fall 2020 due to COVID-19. Therefore, F-1 students will not be able to meet SEVP’s regular in-person enrollment requirements. However, SEVP COVID-19 guidance issued in March 2020 makes exceptions to these enrollment requirements for current students in F-1 status and transfer students already in the U.S. in F-1 status. The guidance does not provide exceptions for new students or transfer students outside the U.S.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT TYPE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>STUDENT LOCATION</th>
<th>IMPACT ON STUDENT</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| 1. Newly admitted Undergraduate/Graduate | Outside U.S. | • May not obtain a visa or enter the U.S. for fall study.
• Must make plans to remain abroad.
• Consult with your JHU program if interested in studying remotely.
• OIS action—defer I-20 start date if the student is planning to come to campus for spring 2021 or cancel the I-20 if the student is coming to campus the following academic year (student must request a new I-20 in March 2021). |
| 2. Newly admitted transfer Undergraduate/Graduate | Outside U.S. | • May not return to the U.S. to begin a new program of study in fall.
• Must make plans to remain abroad.
• Consult with your JHU program if interested in studying remotely.
• OIS action—If OIS already issued an I-20, we may be able to defer the F-1 transfer record if the student is planning to come to campus for spring 2021 or we will end the transferred F-1 record if the student is coming to campus the following academic year. |
| 3. Newly admitted transfer Undergraduate/Graduate | Inside U.S. | • May remain in the U.S. for fully online or hybrid course of study in fall.
• OIS action—no action taken as long as student enrolls full-time |
| 4. Continuing Undergraduate/Graduate | Outside U.S. | • May return to the U.S. (with valid F-1 visa in passport) for fully online or hybrid course of study in fall OR may remain abroad for full-time online study.
• Consult with your JHU program if interested in studying remotely.
• OIS action—no action taken; SEVIS program status will continue outside the U.S. as long as student enrolls full-time |
| 5. Continuing Undergraduate/Graduate | Inside U.S. | • May remain in the U.S. for fully online or hybrid course of study in fall.
• OIS – no action taken as long as student enrolls full-time |